The version of Matlab that I used was R2018b. Below I circled where you can switch between the code view and the design view if you could like to edit the code. To run the app click on the open icon and select the radar app then press run and it should open the app automatically. I hope the code is understandable. I tried to comment as I coded. Hope that helps and that you come across no difficulties or mishaps! Good luck!